

```
data TypeName = ValueConstructorA FieldA1 ... FieldAN | ValueConstructorB ...
```

Functions that ultimately return a value of a data type. So the "fields" of a value constructor are really parameters.

They are not types.

Value constructors with no parameters.

Add deriving (OtherClass) to the end of the data declaration.

Use the same name for the data type and the value constructor.